Early enrollment shows slight increase over 2009; ‘official’ count is Monday

Wednesday’s first-day enrollment in Battle Ground Public Schools was up slightly from the first-day count in 2009, according to MaryBeth Lynn, assistant superintendent for finance and operations.

Lynn cautioned that the enrollment number in the first few days every year is a moving target for various reasons, such as families returning late from vacations or last-minute transfers in and out of the district. The “official” count for September, which is the count reported to the state, will be enrollment on Monday, Sept. 13.

However, here are the numbers for the first day in Battle Ground Public Schools and comparable figures for the first-day in 2009. These figures include alternative and HomeLink schools:

HEAD COUNT (Total number of students, whether full- or part-time): First day this year (Sept. 8): 13,188. First day 2009: 12,893.

FULL-TIME EQUIVALENT: First day this year: 12,408. First day 2009: 12,304.

(The district’s year-long average for 2009-10 was head count, 13,363 and FTE, 12,464.)
